

All Consonant Sounds

Pictures from Easier English for Dyslexics ebook series

Say the consonant sound or sounds represented by each picture.

ZH sound at end of garage is shown in dictionary pronunciation guides as the letters ZH. It's the SH sound with a vibration in your throat.

Consonant Sound Partners

Many consonants have noisy partners that are the same sound with an added vibration in the throat. Speech therapists call the silent partner unvoiced and the noisy partner voiced. Compare these letters by saying the sound each picture represents. Touch your throat and feel it vibrate or not when you say the sounds below.

Unvoiced (silent partner)      Voiced (noisy partner)

Say P sound in pizza.			Say B sound in baby.
Say T sound in time.			Say D sound in dog.
Say F sound in funny.			Say V sound in van.
Say K sound in kitten.			Say G sound in get.
Say S sound in sunflower			Say Z sound in zipper.
Say CH sound in cheese.			Say J sound in juice.
Say SH sound in sheets.			Say ZH sound at end of garage.

Nose Vibrating Consonant Sounds

M, N and NG sounds make your nose vibrate.

Say the sound represented by each of these pictures. Touch your nose and feel it vibrate when you say these sounds.

